- What details in the painting catch your attention?
- What questions of curiosity are sparked by the painting?
- What conclusions can you make that are based on information in the painting?

The details in the painting that catch my attention are the animals and the people. These catch my attention because their faces are all stretched out and some of their body parts aren't in the right spot. The questions of curiosity that are sparked by this painting are "What does it mean?" and "Why did he do this?". These are my questions because I am curious on what the meaning behind the painting is, and I also would like to know what everything means. I would like to know why all of the people and animals look weird. Based on the information in this painting, I can conclude that Picasso had a very open mind during his project. He didn't worry about where everything was supposed to be, he just used his imagination.
